

MISCELLANEOUS FAMILY NOTES

Travis

Henry Travis/Travers came to America in 1634 on the "Mary & John". He went to sea in 1648 and never returned.

A Travis/Travers came from Trevieres in Normandy to England with William the Conquerer in 1066 A.D.

Wallingford

Nicholas I was a seaman. He went to sea the last time in 1681. According to family legend, he was captured by Barbary pirates and never returned.

The third child of Nicholas and Sarah, John Wallingford (sometimes seen as Jonathan), served as a private in Capt. John Marsh's company of the North Essex Regiment in the 1690 Canadian Expedition, and was thus the first Wallingford in military service in America. Bakerstown, Maine was granted to the survivors of this expedition and their heirs in 1739.

He and his family moved to Dover, NH about 1702 where he joined his father-in-law, John Tuttle, in the lumber business. He received a legacy from his great-uncle, William Gore, of Nether Wallop, England. William Gore and Margaret Gore were brother and sister to Nicholas's mother, Sarah Gore.

This John had a brother Thomas, who was born 1698 and died 1771. He married Margaret Clement. Thomas was a Colonel and later became a judge. He was known as the Honorable Thomas Wallingford.
